

O-ville Soldier Shoots Korean

A Circleville soldier shot and killed a Korean today after catching the man stealing Army gear near Seoul, Korea.

Sgt. Hager B. Blevins, 25, Lancaster Pike, according to the Army, was on guard duty after a series of thefts in the 7th Division Engineer Company. The announcement said Blevins spotted two Koreans carrying away water pumps.

Blevins called halt three times and fired three shots in the air, the Army reported. "The Koreans, still carrying the pumps, continued to run. The guard then fired two shots at them. Both shots struck the same person. The second Korean escaped."

The 7th Division and Korean police are investigating. No charges have been filed.

Sgt. Blevins is the son of Dewey Blevins, an employee of Sturm & Dillard. He has made his home with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Payne, Lancaster Pike.

BLEVINS ATTENDED Circleville schools. He enlisted in the Army in Feb. 1951 and has been in the service since. He reenlisted for six years in May 1957.

Blevins has four sisters and two brothers, all residing in Circleville. They are Mrs. Edith Taylor, Mrs. Esther Hill, Mrs. Opal Stack and Miss Judy Blevins; Terry Blevins and John Blevins.

Rain Sweeps Area 15 of 17 Days

"Fifteen days of rain out of the last 17 has become a serious problem to county farmers," it was announced today by Weatherman Harry Styers.

A total of 5.83 inches of rain has fallen in the last 17 days, 2.85 inches over the monthly average. There have been five days of rain near the inch mark.

One farmer was heard to remark, "No need to worry about the well running dry or the water level falling."

Styers said the steady rainfall had prevented farmers from cultivating fields of corn and lima beans and harvesting wheat. Reports indicate that the wheat has begun to sprout and is turning black in the fields.

Although the county's corn crop is looking good, the weeds also are looking excellent since plows have barely touched the ground since early July.

THE Scioto River poured into local bottom lands in June, practically wiping out the corn crop there. This month the river again swept into the lowlands, causing damage to corn which was replanted after the first flood.

Styers said the recent rainfall

$90 Million Crop Loss in Ohio Feared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 177,000 farmers face a possible $90 million dollar crop loss because of rainy weather, agricultural experts estimated today.

W. B. Wood, director of the state Agricultural Extension Service, said the loss may amount to about 50 per cent of the hay, wheat, barley, oat and rye crops.

R. P. Handy, statistician for the Ohio Crop Reporting Service, said the valuation of these crops averages 78 million for hay, 70 millions for wheat, 30 millions for oats, 2 millions for barley and $600,000 for rye.

Wood said the situation he described as serious a week ago now is critical with most of the crops ripe but still too wet to cut.

Dryers in grain elevators have been swamped, Wood said, and crops which have been brought in show a moisture content of between 20 and 22 per cent. Fourteen per cent is considered safe.

The Columbus Weather Bureau said there is little likelihood the weather picture will change in the next few all important days. Even if there is no rain, the bureau reported, skies will remain cloudy and the lack of sunshine will slow the drying process.

Cypriots Ordered To Stay Indoors

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Most of the feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots today began a two-day house confinement intended to stop violence which killed 5 more persons Monday and wounded 10.

British authorities ordered the Cypriots to stay indoors beginning at 4:30 a.m., on top of a 30-day dusk-to-dawn curfew imposed Sunday after the worst week of communal killing, in which 20 persons died.

Russia Rejects U.S. Claims on Airplane

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today rejected a U.S. note protesting the downing of an American military plane over Soviet Armenia June 27.

The Soviets declared the protest unfounded and inappropriate. The nine men aboard the American plane have been returned by the Russians.

Beirut Folks Eager for Calm

'Any' Settlement Would Get Approval

BEIRUT (AP)—"We're sick and tired of the whole thing. The people don't care what kind of a solution develops so long as they get this over with."

Camille Birbari, 36-year-old purchasing agent for a Lebanese firm, was talking. His office is in the center of Beirut—one of the hottest spots in the 73-day-old rebellion against Lebanon's pro-Western government.

Frequently, Birbari has telephoned his pretty wife Aida, mother of one child and with another on the way, that he had to work late.

Actually his office building was under heavy rebel fire. One employee was killed and another wounded. Birbari moved his desk away from the window and felt reasonably safe. But he couldn't tell his wife the real reason for his working late — "She was already nervous and I wouldn't give her any more bad news."

Aida's time drew near. Because of rebel sandbag barriers in sections of the city and the government's 8 p.m. curfew, the husband became apprehensive about the trip to the hospital.

"We had four passes, of course, not knowing when Aida might have to go to the hospital. Then they canceled the old passes and told everybody in the city they would have to get new ones. There was nothing we could do but hope for the best. My wife was nervous but very brave."

Ten days ago Birbari took his wife to the hospital — at 7 p.m., an hour before the streets were cleared and before the nightly shootings and bombings began. The baby arrived that night.

Birbari said the arrival of the U.S. Marines caused celebrations among the government supporters and badly scared the opposition. But the great majority of the people now just want peace, he declared, adding: "We are sick and tired of it. We're against anything that disturbs the stability of the country."

After 5 Years, Tot Finally Getting 'Full'

PANA, Ill. (AP)—For the first time in her young life, 5-year-old Karen Lee Gordon is getting her fill of home cooking.

Mashed potatoes, noodles, eggs, fruits, even a little meat — whatever Mom puts on the table, the pert, blonde child polishes off. Then she rubs her expanding belly, coos blissfully and proudly reports, "I'm full."

It's something new for the Gordon household. Gone is the hated tube through which the little girl had to be fed since she was 3 days old.

Because Karen was born without an esophagus, doctors had to insert the tube through a hole in her abdomen. Eating was a tasteless ordeal.

An operation two years ago permitted the child to take semi-liquid baby foods, even a little ice cream. But she still couldn't eat solids and received most of her food by tube.

Last Thursday, Karen turned 5. She celebrated the birthday with cake and ice cream in her room at St. Mary's Hospital, Decatur, Ill. She ate all she wanted and that's when they knew positively that the last of seven operations had worked.

Doctor's had succeeded in substituting for the esophagus a portion of the child's lower intestine.

Karen went home last Friday to a marvelous new world of foods.

3 Ohio Airfields Tagged for Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today recommended the following amounts be provided for Army, Navy and Air Force construction.

The money measure, totaling $1,218,815,000, is $11,838,000 under the amount sought by the administration. The list of projects, by states, service, and installation, includes:

OHIO: Army — Erie Ordnance Depot, $1,713,000. Navy — None. Air Force—Clinton County AFB, $11,589,000; Lockbourne AFB, Columbus, $835,000; Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton, $11,440,000.

NEW OFFICE 'EQUIPMENT' — Abdul Karim Kassem (right), new premier of the revolutionary Iraqi government, carries a submachine gun to his office in Baghdad. Kassem was quoted as telling the Iraqi embassy in London by telephone: "Make it clear to the West that we are still their friends."

Rebels Need Only 2 Hours To Overthrow Iraq Monarch

BAGHDAD (AP)—It took a group of army officers just two hours to overthrow the monarchy and establish a republic in Iraq.

The army dissidents appear to have been in complete control of the country from the start on July 14. There may be some hidden opposition to the new regime, but it is not apparent to a visit just arrived.

This was not an uprising by the people, but they seem pleased by the result.

Although the officers of the new regime and the average Iraqi don't like the U.S. intervention in Lebanon and the British landing in Jordan, the chief concern appears to be for their own affairs coupled with a desire to be accepted by the West as the legitimate government of this oil-rich Middle East country.

There is great adulation of the United Arab Republic's President Nasser, but there does not seem to be any great desire to join the U.A.R.

The revolution was a military operation carried out like clockwork.

At 5 a. m. on July 14, one company of infantry, supported by a tank and several antitank guns mounted on jeeps, surrounded the royal palace where 23-year-old

Polio Group Plans Fight On Arthritis

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today it is expanding its program to attack major health problems of the nation.

Until now, the foundation has been concerned with polio. Paralytic polio has been virtually licked by the Salk vaccine. Basil O'Connor, foundation president, said research initially will be in five areas: polio, virus research, disorders of the nervous system, arthritis and birth defects.

The foundation's expansion into arthritis research indicates it may vie for funds with the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation. The latter last week rejected a proposed merger by the two groups.

O'Connor said no attempt will be made to duplicate the work of other voluntary agencies. He added, however, that as scientific breakthroughs occur they will be pursued wherever they lead, with the general objective of improvement of man's health.

The arthritis group voiced regret that the polio foundation had not "seen fit to join forces" in combating arthritis, but instead was entering the field on its own.

The polio organization will be known henceforth as the National Foundation, O'Connor said. He said the enlarged program is a natural outgrowth of work done in the course of finding a polio preventive and caring for polio victims.

Lebanese Expect U.S. Withdrawal

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—One of the leaders of the opposition to President Camille Chamoun said today he believes American troops will be withdrawn from Lebanon soon.

Former Premier Hussein Oweini leader of the National Front, said he based his view on talks he had Monday with Robert Murphy, President Eisenhower's special diplomatic troubleshooter who has been thrust into the role of mediator in this little country's politics.

Oweini said he thought the Americans would soon withdraw because the Iraqi situation is now "stabilizing."

U.S. Marines, sent here to assure Lebanon's independence, were in the midst of a lot of noisy shooting again Monday night, as opposition elements, many of them pro-Nasser, continued their 74-day rebellion.

"There was a lot of commotion around the whole area", a Marine officer said.

No bullets hit Leatherneck positions around the airport, however, and the Marines did not shoot back.

One Marine was killed before dawn by a Marine sentry. An officer said the dead man had failed to answer a challenge as he was returning from a mission.

In the heart of Beirut, a number of heavy explosions shook buildings early today and automatic rifles chattered.

The nightly noise usually means the rebels are exploding dynamite bombs in their terror campaign and that government security forces are replying with rifle fire.

A Marine officer said, however, that closer liaison with Lebanese Army units had stopped some of the sniping that has been going on around the Marine positions.

Reds Ask Changes In Jap U.N. Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A Soviet attempt to rewrite a Japanese Middle East peace plan threatened today to delay a showdown vote for at least 24 hours.

In a surprise move, Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev handed the 11-nation Security Council a series of amendments, including a new demand for the immediate withdrawal of U.S. forces from Lebanon.

He suggested strongly he would use the veto to kill the Japanese resolution if his amendments were turned down. The Council already has rejected a Soviet resolution calling on American troops to get out of Lebanon.

The Soviet amendments were sure to be rejected.

The Japanese resolution provides for beefing up the present U.N. observer group in Lebanon so it would guarantee the political independence of the strife-torn Middle East country and permit the withdrawal of U.S. forces.

Some delegates said they would have to get new instructions from their governments, and doubted they could do so in time to vote today.

The delay gave more time for big-power exchanges on possible high-level talks either in the U.N. or outside. In this morning's brief debate, however, there was no mention of these talks or of the proposed emergency meeting of the U.N. General Assembly.

Tension was reported rising in Amman, capital of neighboring Jordan, after a series of bombings Sunday night and Monday and an unsuccessful attempt to incite a general strike against King Hussein's regime. No one was hurt in the bombings, and swift police action nailed the strike threat, but British paratroops who landed in Jordan last week to bolster Hussein were carrying arms on the streets of Amman for the first time.

In Beirut, meanwhile, some of the 6,300 U. S. Marines were put on antisniper patrols with Lebanese government forces in an effort to stop rebel shooting at U.S. planes flying over the capital and to reduce sporadic fire at Marine guards. Sixteen planes have been hit by sniper fire but there have been no personnel casualties.

President Eisenhower's special envoy, Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, continued his search for a political compromise in Lebanon. He conferred with former Prime Ministers Abdullah Yafi and Hussein Oweini, both leaders of the revolt against President Chamoun.

It was believed the rebel pair tried to convince Murphy their forces were not anti-Western but could aid the West by acting as a go-between with U. A. R. President Nasser.

The Defense Department in Washington sought to tone down the warning of a U. S. Navy spokesman in Beirut that American forces in the Middle East are capable of employing atomic weapons. The Defense Department said it could foresee no circumstances in the present situation which would require the use of nuclear arms.

In Iraq all was reported calm. The first of several emergency flights from Baghdad to evacuate Americans wanting to leave arrived in Rome with 37 women, 53 children and an ill employee of the State Department. The women included at least 10 expectant mothers.

GE Shuns Union, Risking Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—The General Electric Co. says it would submit to a long strike rather than yield to a union demand for a lay-off pay plan.

Virgil B. Day, manager of union relations for General Electric, commented Monday on the demand by the International Union of Electric Workers (IUE).

Day said there has been no change in the view of the company expressed three years ago that such a program would not be "in the balanced best interests of all concerned."

A strike threat was made by the General Electric Board of the union, which is headed by James B. Carey.

Summit Talks In U.N. Get Western Nod

London Extorts Full Pressure on U.S. Chief For Russian Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower yielded to British insistence today and agreed to go along with a summit meeting of the United Nations Security Council if that is generally desired by the Western Powers and Russia.

A White House announcement to this effect shortly after noon today apparently ended a dispute with Britain over whether the Western Big Three should move openly and directly toward a U.N. summit session or merely indicate indirectly in notes to Moscow that such a meeting might be possible.

About an hour earlier, British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd had told the House of Commons in London that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan would attend if a special meeting of the Security Council were arranged.

The purpose of the meeting, Lloyd said, would be to discuss the Middle East crisis but it would not act on any resolution unless there was general agreement that such action should be taken.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said at the White House: "A United Nations Security Council meeting of the character suggested by Foreign Minister Lloyd is clearly with the contemplation of the (U.N.) Charter."

"If such a meeting were generally desired, the United States would join in following this orderly procedure."

Meanwhile, it was learned, Secretary of State Dulles had revised a proposed U.S. note to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to bring it more into line with Britain's insistence that the Western Powers should open the way clearly and unmistakably for heads of government to attend an extraordinary session of the Security Council.

Khrushchev proposed on Saturday a five-power emergency summit conference at Geneva composed of government chiefs of the three Western nations, plus himself and Prime Minister Nehru of India. He also asked the attendance of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Buchenald Butcher Appeals Conviction

BAYREUTH, Germany (AP)—Martin Sommer, the "Butcher of Buchenwald," has appealed his conviction by a West German court of wartime mass slayings in the Nazi concentration camp.

Sommer was given the maximum sentence of life imprisonment after his conviction July 3. The prosecutor's office said he has not yet submitted any legal arguments to support his appeal.

State May Exploit Huge Hocking County Park Area

The State of Ohio has finally recognized the six Hocking County parks as an area that can be and will be developed into a recreational area second to none in the entire Midwest.

Natural Resources Director Herbert Eagon has given absolute top priority to the immediate development of the Hocking Parks system — barely 25 miles southeast of Circleville in the rugged hill country — and will ask the next Legislature for $855,000 to finance the first two years of a six-year improvement program.

Eagon's department has 11 scattered projects on its priority list, but the Hocking Parks are among the top four.

That was underscored by the fact that his total request for funds to improve all state parks — there are 54 of them — will total $6 to $8-million. Of this, the Hocking system alone will get 10 to 15 per cent.

The Delaware Dam area also is on the list of 11, but it does not have as high priority as the Hocking parks area.

UNTIL EAGON became director, the hill section was a sort of stepchild. Its potentialities were either ignored or overlooked.

In fact, on a tour of the area only this spring, Eagon was challenged to find a single picnic table at one of the areas—Conkle's Hollow.

There were none there.

But now, things are going to be different. The facilities of the six parks—which lie along Route 374 in a long "S" that is skinnier than the department's past budgets — will be developed and expanded through the cooperation of all of

Police Probe into Hot Feud Leading to Fatal Shooting

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A three-month-old feud over a swimming pool boiled into a double killing. A 67-year-old retired steelworker, accused of the two deaths, is quoted by detectives as saying he recalls only firing a revolver at a man.

Joseph Sabatino may not be formally charged until Wednesday according to William Reed, chief of detectives. Reed said Monday he wants to take statements from about 20 persons who were at a swimming party when the shooting occurred late Sunday.

A happy birthday celebration at the pool of Dr. and Mrs. H. John Little ended quickly when five shots sprayed into the crowd. Some of the people were on Sabatino's property next door, police said.

Killed were Mrs. Pauline Mae Little, 34, wife of the osteopathic physician who was observing his 33rd birthday, and Robert E. Page, 30, a guest. Two other guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, were wounded. Brown, 31,

Beating Brings Death to Tot In Columbus

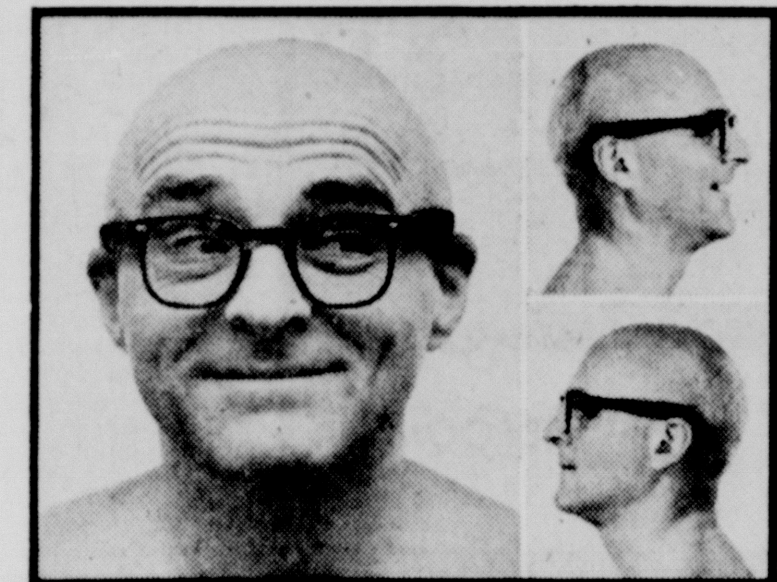

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The emergency squad of the Columbus Fire Department rushed 4-year-old Bessie Colbin to University Hospital Monday night.

An hour and a half later, despite all surgeons could do—including heart massage—she was dead.

By then, Dr. Robert A. Evans, the coroner; Samuel L. Devine, the prosecutor; Homicide detective and juvenile officers were at the hospital. They said the little girl had been beaten with a heavy belt about 24 hours earlier.

Authorities gave no other details, but the little girl's guardians, Buford Wynn, 24, identified as an airman at nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base, and his wife Rebecca, 29, both of Columbus, were ordered to Police headquarters for questioning. The Wynns' 15-year-old niece, Mary Clines, was also to be questioned.

Police said the little girl's body was almost entirely black and blue, and she suffered severe cuts about the face, chest, legs, stomach and back. An autopsy was performed.

Alaskan TV To Expand

Statehood Expected To Boom Industry

NEW YORK (AP)—Long winter nights and a shortage of other entertainment have helped make radio and television a lively, growing business in Alaska, although it is cut off electronically from the 48 states.

Roy V. Smith, president of Alaska Radio and TV Sales in New York, reports that 80 per cent of Alaskan families have television sets and 95 per cent own radios.

Improved television facilities are expected to boost the TV figure when statehood becomes a reality.

"Alaska is a natural for radio and television," says Smith. "Winter stays around from September to April, and six months out of the year it's dark by 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Except for movies and an occasional dance, there isn't much other entertainment."

There is no coaxial cable or microwave relay linking Alaska with the United States, so programming of all three major networks (ABC, CBS, NBC) is recorded or filmed and brought in by plane for showing on the average of two weeks after it is seen Stateside.

"Statehood is expected to speed the day when Alaska will be able to receive direct broadcasts," Smith says. "But it won't be in the near future because of the high cost."

He expects, however, that when statehood is achieved, many advertisers will reassign Alaska from the foreign to the domestic budget, with a greater outlay.

ABC film syndication, which has sold 560 filmed shows in the territory in the last three years, already has taken this step.

"This probably will mean Alaska will get more of the better United States show than it does now," Smith says, "with the possibility of receiving them a lot sooner than now. With more advertising dollars coming in, stations can pay more to have the process of recording programs speeded."

"It also may bring more stations to the new state."

British Columbia Shrouded by Smoke

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A shroud of smoke five miles thick hung over northern British Columbia today where fires burned uncontrolled over an estimated one million acres.

The smoke forced fire fighters to stand by helplessly. Airplanes were grounded, making it impossible to spot new outbreaks.

Wind and lightning teamed to make the situation what the chief district forester, D. B. Taylor, described as the worst he had seen in his 37 years experience.

"It also may bring more stations to the new state."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission issued a permit today for a building of a $10,735,000 research and testing reactor at the Plum Brook Ordnance works near Sandusky, Ohio.

News Items in a Basket

There are days when an editorial writer has to scratch to find a subject important enough, or interesting enough, to write about. There are other days when he finds more subjects than he can handle. Which of the following items in the days news should be given full editorial treatment?

The case of the American fliers who strayed into Soviet Armenia was worse than early reports indicated. Russian jet fighters shot up the unarmed plane, and made a second attack while it was falling in flames. It is a miracle that no one was killed in these unwarranted attacks.

A curious thing happened after the men landed. They were set upon, beaten up, and threatened with lynching by Armenian peasants — who desisted on learning that the fliers were Americans. Had the Armenians thought they were Russians?

The State Department revealed that the persecution of Hungarian freedom fighters by the Russian-installed government not only continues, but mounts. Many are being tried over again, some openly, some secretly.

In East Germany, Communist Party Boss Walter Ulbricht warned Tito of Yugoslavia that he might face the fate of Hungary's late Premier Imre Nagy. Tito is the head of a communist government. Nagy, also a communist, was executed because he didn't want Hungary to be a Soviet satellite.

In Brioni, Tito and President Nasser of the United Arab Republic finished their talks. Nasser undoubtedly got an earful about the hazards of coexistence for those who try to be friendly with Russia and the West.

to release anonymous letters, which one of their officials said in an unguarded moment he suspected of being phony, purporting to come from an American aviator planning to drop a nuclear bomb on Britain.

Moscow has announced plans for economic integration with East Germany, where a huge Russian army of occupation is maintained. East Germany continues to hold American helicopter passengers as hostages in an effort to force American recognition.

At Geneva, Western and communist scientists are reported to have made some progress in widening their area of agreement on practical problems of detecting tests of nuclear devices. But Moscow continues to try to put the political cart before the scientific horse by demanding that the United States agree now to stop testing, regardless of what the scientists do.

Which of these subjects to write about? Perhaps it is better to put all these eggs in one basket, and merely add that the cockier the communists get, the more firmly the West seems to be stalled on dead center.

What Makes Life Enjoyable?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Man tends to spend more time yearning for what he wants than enjoying what he has.

Did you ever sit and make a catalogue of your personal pleasures, things past or present that have helped to make your life add up to more—and you'd hate to be without or never to have known?

You may be pleasantly surprised to find how many things in this world have made your journey through it memorable.

Here's one man's impromptu list:

Cigars, nylon socks and the Notre Dame football team in a vintage year.

Girls.
The crooning of Bing Crosby when the world was younger. Helen Hayes in any play.

The old movies of Charlie Chaplin and W. C. Fields.

Vanilla ice cream, Strawberry shortcake, corn on the cob, and the unforgettable taste of a lamb's eyeball at an Arab barbecue in the Algerian desert.

Climbing to the top of the Eiffel

Tower in August, 1945. And to the dome of St. Peter's in Rome in 1946. And the Great Pyramid outside Cairo in 1954.

Asking the first girl I ever dated in high school to go sit in the park on the way home from the prom and her immortal answer: "What for?"

Sitting on the front porch of the old family home on a summer night long ago listening to my father explain the mysteries of life, politics, baseball, and why women are so unpredictable.

Shaving with champagne one morning when we ran out of water in the march across France.

Walking home in London in wartime during a blackout lit only by bombbursts.

The beautiful, beautiful girls of Bali!

The mystic ecstasy of a full moon at harvest time in Kansas.

New Method for Good Tan

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Want to get an attractive tan without getting sunburned? Maybe a simple little tablet can help you do just that.

Experiments indicate that psoralen derivatives, 8-methoxy-psoralen (methoxsalen) and 8-isomethoxy-psoralen (8-IOP), help facilitate sun tanning.

If this is proven conclusively, it probably will mean that you will be able to get a nice tan without inflicting much permanent damage on the underlying connective tissue.

Moreover, it may mean that those of you who have been unable to acquire a tan in the past may be able to do so with relative ease. And those subject to skin cancer may be greatly protected from the offending rays of the sun.

According to experiments conducted in Hawaii, the tan acquired under the influence of the psoralens may be of a slightly different color and quality than that which generally results from exposure to the sun.

Indications are that it would be a striking chocolate brown color.

What's more, it probably will last a good deal longer than an ordinary tan.

Four persons who had never been able to acquire a good tan were given tablets by their doctors containing 10 mg. of 8-methoxy-psoralen and 5 mg. of 8-IOP to take an hour or so before going into the sun.

Beautiful Tans

They were advised to expose themselves cautiously for the first few days and then to double or triple the exposure as they noted a decreasing tendency to burn. Three of the four reported that they developed beautiful tans. And one said he noted no noticeable decrease of his tan after spending almost a month on the mainland during the winter.

Other volunteers who sunburned very easily, reported no more than mild soreness and subsequent peeling. In most cases, there was not even this much reaction to the sun's rays after the tablets had been taken.

So it may not be long before you can discard those suntan creams

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Herald welcomes expressions of opinion from its readers through letters to the editor on subjects of general interest. We feel that a past policy which included a ruling of the signature of the writer at the end of the letter as printed in the newspaper has been somewhat of a deterrent to readers who, for one reason or another, hesitated to express their views.

We still insist that letters to the editor be signed and include a complete return address, but the name and address will not be used in the published letter on request of the writer. A pen name or initials, whichever the writer prefers, will be used instead. We will NOT use anonymous letters.

We believe that a Letters to the Editor column should serve as an open forum of opinion and we are liberalizing our policy to encourage that result. The editor reserves the right to shorten over long letters and to reject letters which contain personal attacks on individuals. The Letters to the Editor column will NOT be open to religious controversy of any kind.

Again, we welcome your views—particularly on current local topics. Simply address your letter to "The Editor, Herald."

Question and Answer
J. P.: What is the cause of brain cells wasting away?

Answer: Brain cells deteriorate because of lack of circulation, as may occur with hardening of the arteries or extreme old age. Certain chemicals and drugs can be harmful to brain cells, and certain diseases, such as syphilis, also can harm them.

ELECTRICITY... THE FEATURE WITH A FUTURE

Action Rumbles, SC Fumbles

By George Sokolsky

The world could go down to its final end while the Security Council of the United Nations debates on the virtues of this or that paragraph of the United Nations Charter. It must be pleasant to belong to such a delightful debating society in which men are most courteous when they spit into each other's eyes.

So Comrade Sobolev rises to make a prolonged speech which is translated into English and French. The afternoon has passed. American troops have landed in Turkey; British troops have landed in Jordan; Ben-Gurion has had the Russian Ambassador in. But the United Nations translator drones his weary way.

The English translator of Sobolev's speech must have gone to an elocution school. He is very good at nuances, at little sarcasms. He might be an actor. He is better than Sobolev who as an orator is very bad, indeed—nothing like Vyshinsky who when he cursed the United States really put his heart in it.

Ah! Dag Hammarskjold, the Secretary General of the United Nations, gets into the act. What he says is neither here nor there, because Soviet Russia sent her top air force general to plan a campaign with Nasser's top air force general. Hammarskjold talks for the record. Someday a researcher will note that he had asserted the superiority of the United Nations over the United States. It may be so, but we are now moving troops and fleets and the fate of nations hangs in the balance.

So Sweden goes into a dither. Sweden can be occupied by Soviet Russia and the Swedes would prefer that nothing be done to irritate the Russians who would need only an hour or two to move into Sweden from Finland. I once spent some time up around Haparanda and Tornio where Sweden and Finland are joined together. It is bleak country, up in the Arctic. It would not take the Russians many hours to move troops by land as well as by airplanes into Sweden.

So the Swede in the United Nations tried hard to postpone discussion, postpone meetings, postpone life and reality. And the same is true of the Japanese who wanted American troops removed from Japan and now the Japanese have to defend themselves from Soviet Russia and Red China and the subversive elements in Japan. It is a tough spot for Japan.

What they really need is the protection of the American occupation. For Japan, the greatest tragedy was the failure of the United States to defeat Red China in Korea. That tragedy was, of course, due to the Pentagon's antagonism toward General Douglas MacArthur and the mistaken policies of President Truman who did not understand that in the so-called United Nations police action we were fighting not North Korea but Red China.

And now Japan must face reality, too. For if World War III should break out over Lebanon and Iraq and the other tricks of Nasser, Japan will be occupied as Sweden will be occupied. That is one of the cruel facts about wars; they do not remain within fixed margins. They spread. World War I started over the Balkans and spread to every ocean; World War II started over Poland which was soon forgotten as more significant targets were hit.

We are now in the foothills of World War III. The start is over Lebanon but only occurred when a Nasser-organized revolution hit Israel. Also Turkey, Jordan and Iraq are involved and Sweden and Japan are literally scared.

And so the debate droned on and on at the United Nations Security Council.

Will the agenda be adopted? After that, will a resolution be adopted? And will the resolution be vetoed by either the United States or Soviet Russia? What difference does it now really make? Hour after hour, I listen on the radio as millions of others do. Occasionally there is an amusing interlude as when an N.B.C. commentator spoke about the CIA being headed by one, Allen Dulles. Now, what does the word, one, mean at such a moment?

Allen Dulles cannot be talked down or humiliated by a baritone; he heads our intelligence services and is trying to handle an extremely difficult task with an agency that cannot mature quickly. If the CIA is in fine working condition in a generation, it will be a success. It takes a long time to make a good spy.

Bible scholars tell us that Iraq probably was the site of the Garden of Eden. However, these days, thanks to Egypt's Nasser and his stooges, the place has been turned into just the opposite of Paradise.

Too bad some of that oil in which Iraq abounds can't be used to calm down that nation's troubled waters.

U.S. Securities Mart Involves Massive Deals

Million-Dollar Sales
Sometimes Handled
By Telephone Call

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Re-entry of the federal reserve system into the long term U. S. bond market throws the spotlight today on a small but influential group that deals in government securities.

It is one of the biggest financial markets in the world. Deals, often involving millions of dollars, are usually made over the phone. Deals can be made on small margins, allowing speculators in now and then. And the market operations, while not under the direct control of the federal reserve, are easily and almost constantly influenced by the Central Bank, normally the market's biggest buyer and seller. From now on the influence will be more marked.

Your savings bonds aren't involved. You can redeem them at the U. S. Treasury but you can't sell them to any other person and they can't be traded or influenced in any way by the government securities dealers.

But there are some 167 billion dollars in U. S. securities today that are marketable.

The federal reserve since 1952 has been buying or selling only the short term securities—such as the 91-day U. S. Treasury bills—and its operations are aimed at supplying the commercial banks with enough funds to handle what the FED considers the legitimate needs of business but not enough to encourage what it calls speculators.

Now the Central Bank is buying long term bonds again. The announced aim: to keep the market orderly (which it hasn't been of late). The side effect: to bolster the prices of U. S. bonds, which have tumbled in recent weeks at a time when both the recession and the Middle East crisis need firm markets.

There are 17 dealers in government securities. Five of these are banks. The banks usually operate in the short or medium term bond market. Other dealers operate in both long and short term securities.

The Central Bank stopped trading in long term bonds in 1952 on an agreement with the Treasury that it would no longer support the price of these bonds as it had been doing during and after the war in line with the administration's easy money, low interest policy in those years.

But with the Treasury returning frequently these days to the money market as the federal deficit starts to rise, the Central Bank is agreeing to keep the market in line.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We have read with interest your column about the attractive career girl whose problem is men, interested only in her body, she says. We fully sympathize with her problem, since we also are college educated women in our early twenties, trying to earn a living in a large city.

We feel that you haven't adequately comprehended our common problem; and have failed to give us a real solution. We do not consider ourselves sophisticates, trying (as you say to Miss D.A.) to seem unshocked by anything.

We are merely trying to earn a living in our chosen fields, hoping eventually to meet a suitable marriage partner. But we are constantly faced with the difficulty of having to cope with marriageable men who have only one animalistic thought in their minds.

So many of our dates end up either in a wrestling match or a bitter argument. These men are all well educated and establishing themselves in good careers; but they have not yet matured morally and socially. What can we do when this kind of man is all we seem able to meet on our social and economic level?

How are young women, who are obliged to earn a living in a city away from home and family, to cope with men like this?

J.L. & B.B.
DEAR LADIES: Actually there is no mystery about how to cope with difficulties of this kind. The first safeguard consists in your housing arrangements.

If two girls have an apartment together, and one girl usually tries tactfully to be out—or at any rate out of sight and sound—when the other's beau is around, you are automatically inviting a certain amount of male presumption. From the man's view, that situation amounts to a trap, into which the male is supposed to fall—and propose marriage. Thus, the cagey wolf figures that he's entitled to turn the tables, if possible, and try his hand at making a free conquest.

So, if you girls have a little place of your own, in a big town

Senate Debates Ike's Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate supporters of reciprocal trade concentrated their efforts today on defeating an effort to limit President Eisenhower's powers over tariffs.

They spoke hopefully of passing by tonight a bill to extend the 24-year-old trade program, leaving it up to a later Senate-House conference committee to agree on more liberal terms than those recommended by Senate Finance Committee. The House had voted substantially what Eisenhower asked.

The major Senate test shaped up over a committee proposal to strip the President of his power to overrule Tariff Commission recommendations for higher tariffs or import quotas.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost from the moment President Eisenhower sent American troops into Lebanon his action has raised questions which may seem unpleasant to think about but which nevertheless must be faced.

For example: Now that we're in Lebanon, when do we get out and how?

The President's action — widely supported in this country but far from widely supported around the world — was taken at the request of Lebanese President Chamoun, who said he feared violent, subversive overthrow of his government.

But even in Lebanon there was far from general approval of Chamoun's request or Eisenhower's action.

The quick landing of Marines July 15 may have prevented the violent overthrow Chamoun said he feared. But it also antagonized the rest of the Arab world and provided the Soviet Union with anti-American propaganda. And the United States may wind up in a truly embarrassing position before this is over.

In the first place, the 66-men-ber Lebanese Parliament is scheduled to elect a successor to President Chamoun Thursday. Chamoun's term does not officially expire until Sept. 23.

If the election is held, Chamoun probably will serve out his term. So long as he is in office, there will be an excuse for the presence of American troops in Lebanon.

But if his successor is chosen in legal and orderly fashion Thursday and asks the United States to withdraw, this country will find itself in an almost untenable position, and would have little choice but to withdraw once Chamoun stepped down.

In the second place: if the question of American troops in Lebanon goes before the United Nations General Assembly, many of the African, Asian and Arab nations may in effect repudiate the American intervention.

But on top of all these problems is this crowning one:

True, the United States forces in Lebanon — where Chamoun is pro-Western — may have prevented his bloody ouster and for the time being may have frustrated the hopes of Egyptian President Nasser to bring Lebanon under his wing.

But the tide of Arab nationalism in the Middle East is at crest now. And what happens when the American troops are withdrawn? There is a good chance Lebanon will join the Nasser camp and all this action will have been for nought in the long run except for this possible effect:

That it did show that the United States, when pushed hard enough, would act in defiance of Moscow or any revolutionary force to back its friends.

The questions applying to the United States position in the Middle East now apply equally to the British, whose troops have gone into Jordan at the request of King Hussein to save his government from violent overthrow.

The British can hardly hope to stay there indefinitely. Hussein has now openly broken with Nasser. But what happens to Hussein when the British withdraw — next week, next month, next year?

National Loop Play Pattern Tightens Race

Braves, Cubs Taste Defeat from Teams They Have Clobbered

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What makes that National League race so tough? A playing pattern that gives you a three-game sweep from a club one week then hands you a loss to the same bunch a week later.

Ask the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago Cubs.

The Braves, with a chance to regain first place from idle San Francisco, blew 3-0 and 4-3 leads Monday night and were beaten 5-4 in 14 innings by the St. Louis Cardinals. Curt Flood's sixth homer gave it to the Cards, who lost three in a row to the Braves at St. Louis a week ago.

And the Cubs, who swept Cincinnati in three last week, were belted 9-4 by the Redlegs Monday night in the only other game scheduled.

No games were scheduled in the American League.

The Braves remain a full game behind the Giants, who open a road trip tonight at Philadelphia.

The Cubs now are just a game ahead of the fourth-place Cardinals, 5½ games behind the Giants. The Reds jumped from eighth to fifth.

Low Burdette, whose error gave the Cardinals a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning, was handed a 4-3 lead on Joe Adcock's 13th homer in the Milwaukee seventh. But Wally Moon sent it into extra innings with a ninth-inning homer, his second off Burdette, now 9-8.

The winner was reliever Bill Wright, who blanked the Braves on four hits over the last 6 2-3 innings for his first National League victory.

The Redlegs breezed against the Cubs, although Harvey Haddix had his troubles in the ninth before gaining a 6-5 record. Cal Neenan, who belted a two-run double earlier, hit his ninth homer, and Tony Taylor doubled with one out, but Haddix wrapped it up after Taylor was nailed at the plate trying to score on a single.

Bob Thurman hit a three-run homer for the Reds in the seventh, but they had it bagged in a four-run fourth. Rookie Marcelino Solis lost his first major league decision as George Crowe lined a bases-loaded double for two runs.

Two more scored on a force-out and Roy McMillan's single.

Unorthodox Chisox Hold Third Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Okay, so Manager Paul Richards has some different ideas about baseball. But his Baltimore Orioles in third place in the American League Race? How unorthodox can you get?

Yet that's where the Birds were sitting as they opened a two-week tour of the West at Chicago. They're 14½ games behind the New York Yankees, but they're only 3½ shy of second-place Boston.

The Orioles moved to third by taking two of three from Cleveland last weekend while Detroit lost three of four at Boston and slipped to fourth.

The Orioles have won 8 of 12 since the All-Star break in a jump from seventh to third.

Pitching has been the answer for the Birds, who have improved their standing each season since gaining the old St. Louis franchise in 1954. They were seventh in '54 (and again in '55, although they won three more games in their second season), sixth in '56 and fifth last year.

Stoutsville Takes Twin Bill; Hold First in Acme League

Stoutsville increased its lead in the Columbus Acme baseball league to two games Sunday with a doubleheader win over University Views, winning the first tilt, 4-1, and the second, 6-4.

Stoutsville pitcher Don Maynard did a workman's job in both games. He went the distance in the first tilt and came back to work in relief most of the second test.

In the 13 innings he hurled, Maynard fanned 13, walked four and gave up only five hits. He also collected three hits in six trips, including a triple in the second game.

Catcher Harry Strawser also came through in the hitting department. In the first game he rifled a triple and double. In the second, he laid down a perfect squeeze play but which scored a runner from third.

STOUTSVILLE won the first test on the strength of eight hits, collecting two runs in the third frame and one each in the fifth and seventh.

In the second contest the winners came back with eight more hits. They tallied once in the first inning, three times in the second and collected single markers in the fifth and sixth.

TCU Star Shuns Call from Bears

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Jim Swink, a top rookie prospect, stayed at his summer job with a motor freight firm today as the Chicago Bears started professional football training at Collegeville, Ind.

"I have definitely decided not to play," TCU's 1956 All-America halfback said. "It was a number of reasons... I would rather not say the specific one... I just decided I would rather continue on in school at Southwestern and not to play ball."

Orioles are just one game under .500. The pitching staff has a record of 30 complete games, the same as the White Sox, and second only to the Yankees' 36.

The Yankees are at Detroit tonight. Boston is at Kansas City and Washington's at Cleveland for a two-night pair.

Can Man Outrun A Horse?

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Three confident long-distance runners jog off today in a 157-mile marathon to prove a man can outrun a horse.

Paul (Hardrock) Simpson, 53, a veteran runner from Burlington, N.C., and two others will compete against three men on horseback in an endurance run from here to Roosevelt, Utah.

Simpson, a postman, said he once beat a horse in a similar 143.9-mile race from Burlington to Kingston N.C. That was in 1927.

Roy McMurtry, 62, another veteran marathon runner, competed with Simpson in cross-country in 1928. Both have kept active as runners. McMurtry was Indiana state marathon champion in 1928.

The third runner is Edo Romagnoli, 37, Ozone Park, N.Y., a New York policeman who keeps in trim by running 14 miles to and from work each day. He was the 1955 junior marathon champion at Detroit.

The horsemen will be Wesley Bastian, Roosevelt, Utah; Stewart Pollock, Tooele, Utah; and W. L. Jacobson, West Jordan, Utah.

Romagnoli figures none of the men or horses will finish the race in less than 32 hours. The runners loosened up with a 20-mile run Monday.

TEE TOTALER—Sam Snead was running a close second (one stroke) when he sank a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the 18th hole at the halfway point in the Professional Golfers association championship at Havertown, Pa. He rolled his eyes to indicate he was a happy, but tired man. His 36-hole score was 140.

Lynch Blames Ref After Losing Bout To Billy Flaimio

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight Eddie Lynch lost a 10-round unanimous decision to Billy Flaimio Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena, but afterwards his harsh words were directed entirely at the referee.

"So here I am trying to fight this Flaimio," he said. "He's butting away and I call the ref's attention to it because I can't do much fighting while he's butting. And do you know what the ref says? 'Shut up or I'll belt you too.'"

"How do you like that? I can't fight both the ref and Flaimio, so I lose the fight."

The referee, Teddy Martin, said he didn't say anything of the sort, but was willing to forgive and forget.

Flaimio, a tireless puncher, provided most of the action. Flaimio weighed 147½, Lynch 149. Both are New Yorkers.

Paul Waner Seeks Post with Cards

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Paul Waner, who resigned July 13 as batting coach of the Milwaukee Braves, is trying to catch on with the St. Louis Cardinals in a similar capacity.

Waner, one of only eight players in baseball history to collect 3,000 or more base hits, was a visitor in the Cards' clubhouse Monday night after their game with the Braves.

He said he was not on the St. Louis payroll yet, but indicated that he would be soon.

Cripple To Play Game for Cripples

Fowler, born with a twisted foot, will play football here in an Aug. 8 football game to raise funds for the hospital that cured him.

The all-star high school game will raise money for the Shriner's Crippled Children's Hospital at Greenville, S. C.

Fowler started playing football at the age of 9 when his foot was bad and his leg weak. He made the high school varsity and was a team star in his senior season last fall.

Hay, Haddix Can Pitch Full Game!

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs have a little secret that the rest of the National League would do well to ponder: Little Harvey Haddix looks good for more than seven innings.

In fact, he can pitch all the way.

That's what he did Monday night with a curious 10-hitter that beat the Chicago Cubs 9-4 and boosted the Reds into the league's No. 5 spot.

When Harvey came to the Redlegs from Philadelphia last year, his new teammates were delighted. Catcher Ed Bailey, remembering the talent of the little left-hander, said, "There's a bunch of outs I won't have."

But Haddix also had a label as a pitcher who had his best stuff only for seven innings before he started to fold. Earlier this season it looked like there might be something to the reputation.

Harvey has shown improvement and maybe it's because his curve is more baffling.

"Some of the fellows have told me that they're able to pick up my curve," he said. "And it could be, because I've had trouble hiding my pitches all through my career."

Harvey has been plagued recently with a trouble he figured he had left behind with the Phillies—lack of hitting support by his teammates.

"We were in a lot of tight games because we never scored many runs. You're constantly bearing down when that happens. Never have a chance to relax. It takes a lot out of you. Sometimes too much," said Haddix.

The Redlegs supported him more generously than usual Monday night, but it still made for some strange baseball.

National Open golf champion Tommy Bolt shot a record 60 in the 1954 Insurance City Open at Wethersfield, Conn.

CUBS TRY HIM—Marcelline Solis, newly-acquired by the Chicago Cubs from the Texas league, may add mound strength to the Baby Bears who eye the National league pennant.

Davis Cuppers All Qualify In Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—All seven U.S. Curtis Cup team members on the scene qualified for the Women's Western Amateur golf tournament and today entered first round of match play action.

The meet, over the rugged par 36-37-73 Oak Park Country Club course, serves as a stern tune-up for the Curtis Cup matches with Britain's best women amateurs in West Newton, Mass., Aug. 8-9.

Leading the U. S. squad members was 20-year-old Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., a senior history major at Stanford. She was the only one to tame Oak Park in Monday's qualifying, firing a 72 for medalist honors in a field of 170 hopefuls trying for 32 spots in the championship bracket.

The slim Miss Quast thus launched another attempt to duplicate her feat of 1956 when she was the tourney's medalist and went on to take the championship.

She had a seven-stroke edge in the trials. Her closest rivals were four 79 shooters: Sandy Spuzich and Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., of Indianapolis, Clifford Ann Creed, Opelousas, La., and Betty Kerby, Akron.

The other qualifying Curtis Cup players were defending champion Merian Bailey, Northwestern University student from Palatine, Ill., with 83; Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, Mason City, Iowa, 81; Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif., 84; Barbara McIntire, Uptier, Fla., 80; Anne Richardson, Columbus, Ohio., 82., and Polly Riley, Fort Worth, 83.

The qualifying cut off was 85.

Russell Urges Iraq Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) proposed today that the United States negotiate directly with the revolutionary regime in Iraq in an effort to "go to the heart" of the Middle East crisis.

Russell, who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he is willing to have the government do almost anything that promises a hope of stabilizing conditions and permitting the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon.

The Iraqi revolt brought Eisenhower's decision to send the Marines to Beirut to forestall a possible overthrow of the government there.

Russell said he fears "if we can't get the Marines out in six months they may be there forever."

This Modernized Packaging Can Be Quite a 'Hazard'

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Modern packaging is all very well, but it has its hazards.

Consider, for instance, the number of products that now come in spray cans, all of similar size and shape. This is the sort of thing that can happen, if a girl doesn't watch her step:

I was doing a quick makeup job in the office the other evening before going out to dinner. My desk drawer is stocked with all the requisites, just as the beauty columnists advise when they explain how a working girl can keep her glamour up to par.

I removed the grime of the day with the approved cleansing tissues moistened in skin freshener. I used my cream cake foundation, applied fresh lipstick and eyebrow pencil, touched up my nail polish and slicked up my hairdo.

Then, eyes on the mirror as I patted a few stray hairs into place, I reached for the can of hair spray, and sprayed. The results were startling, to say the least. Before my horrified eyes I saw my normally black hair turn bright gold. I looked at the can in my hand. It was metallic gold paint, recommended for radiators, serving trays and metal outdoor furniture.

Fascinated onlookers in the office, chiefly male, advised me to remain a blonde, since gentlemen prefer them. But I didn't feel, somehow, that metallic lacquer would be beneficial to the hair and scalp. I rushed to the art department for help, asking for turpentine to remove the gold paint.

The supply cabinet yielded no turpentine, but did produce a can of rubber cement solvent, which a sympathetic art director applied to my rapidly stiffening golden locks.

Since we acted quickly, most of the gold came out, without damage to the hair. But as he dabbed at my hair with a piece of cotton our art director said:

"Funny thing. Almost the same thing happened to my wife this morning. Only she got hold of a can of pine oil disinfectant instead of the hair spray. Matter of fact, it wasn't bad. Smelled kind of good—better than some of the perfume women use."

They are predicting other products, such as maple syrup, catsup and Hollandaise sauce, to appear in the same kind of cans soon. So you can see that if a girl isn't careful, she's likely to get disinfected, moth-proofed, painted, lathered or garnished with Hollandaise sauce when she reaches for her spray can of perfume or liquid hair net.

The population of Egypt is about 17 million.

Lima Woman Accused of Manslaughter

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A first-degree manslaughter charge will be filed against Mrs. Mary Porter of Lima today, the Allen County prosecutor's office says. Her husband Booker, 28, was shot to death Saturday night.

Mrs. Porter, a 25-year-old mother of three, is in Memorial Hospital under treatment for a bullet wound in the stomach.

Robert L. Balyeat, assistant prosecutor, said her condition prevented his talking with her until late Monday. He said he and another assistant prosecutor, John Evans, decided to file charges after talking with Mrs. Porter.

She has been quoted as saying the double shooting followed a family argument. She said her husband drew a .22 caliber revolver when they drove to her father's house to pick up their children. He wounded her, she said, but she wrested away the gun and shot back.

Police arrived at the scene, about a block from the Lima city limits, to find Porter dead and Mrs. Porter unconscious. They said the three youngsters witnessed the gunfight.

POTATOES OR TOMATOES? — Much doubt was raised recently when Mr. and Mrs. Gene Liff, 620 S. Clinton St., discovered that objects resembling tomatoes were growing on their potato vines. The unusual fruit or vegetable even looked like a tomato when cut in half. However, according to Brehmer Greenhouse spokesmen, the tomato-appearing objects are potato seeds, a rather uncommon growth in this part of the country. Cool, wet weather prevailing here the last few weeks prompts the growth, Brehmer officials said. (Staff Photo)

La Gloria Oil and Gas Company... a versatile subsidiary

Like its parent Texas Eastern, subsidiary La Gloria Oil and Gas Company is versatile... having a variety of interests in several fields of activity.

La Gloria owns and operates one of the largest natural gas cycling plants in the world, at Falfurrias, Texas. It processes some 320 million cubic feet of natural gas each day to recover approximately 10,500 barrels of liquids including natural gasoline, kerosene, butane and propane.

As a production and exploration company, La Gloria occupies a commanding position. The company has under lease approximately 68,000 producing acres and some 103,000 acres of land as yet undeveloped for production, in the states of Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma. During 1957 La Gloria accounted for production of 2,588,300 barrels of crude oil and 25 billion cubic feet of natural gas from its producing wells.

Early in 1957, La Gloria acquired McMurrey Refining Company, Tyler, Texas. La Gloria now has one of the nation's most modern refineries at Tyler. This refinery is a custom producer of automotive and aviation gasolines in the high octane range. The Tyler refinery also produces a multitude of by-products, including petroleum coke for industry... aromatic distillate for paint solvents... carbon black oil essential in manufacturing tires and inks... specialty products for fertilizers and insecticides... high purity hydrocarbons and alkylates for top-quality fuels for today's modern jet aircraft.

The activities of La Gloria typify the Texas Eastern diversification pattern, which has enabled the company to keep pace with the fast changing national economy.
